20 good years of hair spray, scissors and shampoo

Judy Neilsen Schoenherr was raised in Dunlap and graduated from Dunlap High School. She lived in Carroll, Iowa for a while after graduating from Beauty School. She met and married Jude Shoenherr and had two daughters Jill and Jamie. She worked Carroll for a while then moved back to Dunlap.

When Judy moved back to Dunlap, Judy's dad Norman helped her and her husband Jude to get into farming. Judy went to work for Marilyn Grote who owned the shop at that time. Marilyn had worked for Jackie Wertz and had bought the shop from Jackie.

In 1992 Marilyn's daughter Teresa was diagnosed with leukemia and Marilyn took off five years to take care of Teresa. Marilyn told Judy she needed to buy the salon. It took Judy a while to make up her mind, but she has been glad everyday that she made that decision.

While Marilyn was busy Judy had several other women work with her in the salon. After Teresa recovered, Marilyn came back to work at the Hair Station

Judy and Marilyn formed a pack that has lasted through illnesses, pregnancies, raising children and they have kept the hair salon thriving for twenty years.

Judy says that their outstanding customers are the reason the Hair Station has made it through the ups and downs of the American economy. She remembered the time she had to leave to take her daughter Jamie to the doctor and had to leave some of her customers to lock the doors for her. She says, it's hard to fail when you have customers who are so understanding.

Marilyn says they try to treat their customers so special that they will overlook it when Judy and Marilyn have difficulties in their personal lives.

It is hoped that the Hair Station will continue on for many more years. Judy and Marilyn know how to take care of their customers. They know that when a woman gets her hair done, it can make her feel better even if she's unwell. Judy says that's the best part of her job, is making people feel better about themselves. Making them pretty one at a time.

Stop by and see the beautiful jewelry and terrific hair and nail products they have at the Hair Station.

Congratulations Judy on a job well done for the last 20 years.
